

NANA REGIONAL CORPORATION LANDS DEPARTMENT POLICIES

Camp Policies

All camps on NANA lands must be cleaned up after their use.

Permits

Shareholder subsistence and recreational camps, and camps in support of search and rescue activities, are allowed on NANA lands without a permit.

Permits are required for all non-shareholder camps.

Permits are required for all semi-permanent camps and for the construction of all cabins and other permanent structures on camps located on NANA's lands.

Renewable permits are required for shareholder groups wishing to run seasonal camps in locations other than the Sivuniigvik.

Groups wishing to establish camps in support of scientific, government, or commercial activities, including recreational and fishing guides, are required to obtain a permit from the NANA lands department.

NANA approval is necessary for long term leases for semi-permanent camps in support of commercial activities such as mining exploration or guiding.

Permit Conditions

NANA may stipulate conditions on camping permits including but not limited to cleanup requirements, the use of cabins, and a maximum lot size for cabins of 80 feet by 100 feet.

Permit Fees

There will be no fee for camping permits issued to shareholders or shareholder groups.

NANA will charge reasonable fees for the camping permits it issues to non-shareholders, and to commercial and governmental groups. The fee may be based on factors including, but not limited to, the duration of time the camp will remain on NANA lands, the location of the camp, and the number of shareholders using the camp or employed by the permit holder.
