Overland Transport of Heavy Equipment and Vehicles

NANA Procedure

A permit from NANA is required for the transport of heavy equipment and vehicles across NANA lands.

NANA's permit system will be similar to the one used by BLM and at a minimum will require 1) NANA to consult with affected village IRA Councils prior to issuing a permit; 2) the applicant to show that the proposed move will not damage NANA lands; and 3) the applicant to post a bond sufficient to pay the cost of restoring any areas inadvertently damaged.

NANA will work with adjacent landowners/managers to ensure that permit stipulations for any particular overland move are consistent.

Moves that Cause Damage

Requests for overland transports that will cause damage to NANA lands will be evaluated

NANA REGIONAL CORPORATION LANDS DEPARTMENT POLICIES

using such criteria as the need for the transport, alternatives for moving the equipment, and the damage that will result from the transport.

NANA will consult with the affected village IRA Councils about the need for the transport, the route where the least damage will occur, and the probable damages that will result.
